

Nicaragua & JustHope featured in The Tulsa Voice Article

This week's issue of the local magazine The Tulsa Voice paints a picture of a not-so-local place -- Nicaragua. Articles in the publication (on pages 27-29, to exact) provide Tulsans insight into the revolution and highlight JustHope and the importance of the upcoming fundraising event, Wine for Water, on Oct 11.

"'Standing in solidarity means that when things change there, things change here,' Moore said. This year's event will be an opportunity to gain some human-scale, sociopolitically contextualized understanding of the situation on the ground, as well as information on ways to get involved with the organization's uniquely post-colonial approach to mission work."

-- Quote from article Solidarity from Afar by Alicia Chesser.

Check out the article here.

Buy Tickets for the Event

